Headlines Make

Sense; Sometimes

Nonsense

Here are a couple of headlines from the current news:

"Tobin Says U. S. Protected Against Depression"

"To Raise Taxes on Big Corporations 433 Millions."

The Tobin referred to in the first headline is Maurice J. Tobin, an Eastern politician who currently is Secretary of Labor in President Truman's cabinet.

If the men who make millions and pay huge taxes can't always tell how or when a depression is going to develop, then your common sense warns you it is unlikely any greater wisdom rests with the politicians who merely handle millions while spending the taxes other men pay.

Tobin's statement is all arrogance, gall, and condescension. Just because you had the gift of gab and were a good handshaker in the old home town, and finally got to be a cabinet officer—all this doesn't give you the right to presume to talk to the American people as though they were stupid enough to forget you are still a politician.

The ill winds of fortune—of both private and public fortune—are all ways living in wait to blow down arrogant leaders like Tobin and followers stupid enough to believe in him.

The newspaper prints his words because — we are a newspaper, and he is a high government official. But don't ever tell me, "I see by the papers, etc., etc."

Tobin said it. We merely printed the fact that Tobin said it.

Now more than ever before you need to read the newspapers critically.

A critical citizen today is the son of cautious ancestors.

About that second headline —

All of us want to see the wartime excise taxes reduced — but the reason for the excise taxes, on personal purchases, on theater

tickets, and on a host of other transactions, was the huge increase in federal spending brought on by the war. Today the congress is attempting to tell us that the way to get rid of part of the excise taxes is to replace them with higher taxes on the big corporations in this "swap?"

Yet everything you and I buy in the way of durable goods is made by the big corporations; every dollar of taxation is included in the price the big corporations

charge us — so where do we come out in this "swap?"

The only way we are going to win relief from the mountain of wartime taxation is to cut the total of federal expenditures.

There is no other way. Trying to pile the load on the big companies will merely kick still higher

the price of machinery and tools and houses—which are already more than double what they were before the war.

Dulles Says 'Captive World' of Communism Is Too Weak to Seek War With Free World

Tokyo, June 22 —(AP)—John Foster Dulles said today the "captive world" of communism is too weak to seek war now with the free world.

The Republican adviser to the state department told the American Chamber of Commerce the immediate danger to free countries is that they may be taken over from within by small, disciplined Communist minorities.

Dulles' address came amid these other rapid-fire developments involving the United States' position in troubled Asia:

(1) General MacArthur and Dulles conferred for 90 minutes. It was learned they were in virtually complete agreement on necessity for prompt American aid for Red-threatened Formosa and the need for a peace treaty for Japan.

(2) MacArthur, it also was learned, was pleased with the outcome of his conference Monday with Defense Secretary Johnson and General Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the U. S. joint chiefs of staff. MacArthur advocated sending U. S. military equipment to the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa to be administered by an American military mission.

He maintained that American positions on nearby Okinawa and the Philippines would be threatened if the Chinese Reds took Formosa.

(3) Johnson, accompanied by Bradley flew to Okinawa to inspect key air bases on that battle-famed island. Johnson commented the Americans were going to stay on Okinawa "for a long time. Later he and Bradley returned to Tokyo, Japan's ancient capital, for an overnight stay. Dulles met during the afternoon with Japanese Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida after talking with other Japanese officials.

(4) Dulles told a news conference his, Johnson's and Bradley's conclusions will be pooled on their return to Washington and "I think they will form the basis for some positive action but I cannot forecast what." He explained.

By "positive action" he meant the U. S. intends to "preserve inter-

Three Impending Strikes May Bring Rail Tieup

Chicago, June 22 —(AP)—A possible nationwide rail tieup was foreseen today as:

(1) A switchmen's union set Sunday as a strike date against five big lines, and (2) two more unions become legally free to strike July 15.

The Rock Island and the Western Pacific said they would stop running Sunday if the switchmen left work.

The AF switchmen's Union of North America told the Rock Island, the Western Pacific, Great Northern, the Chicago Great Western, and the Denver and Rio Grande Western lines yesterday that they were turning down a presidential board's wage and hour recommendations.

The board made its suggestions April 10. Since May 19 under the railway labor act 30-day "cooling off" period provision, the switchmen have been legally free to strike. All the peace-making provisions of the law have been carried out.

The carriers were notified at the same time that the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors were electing a wage and hour recommendation by a presidential board on June 15. They must "cool off" until July 15.

The officers of the two unions made a joint statement saying the June 15 findings an "insult" to railroaders, as well as the "most unjust, unfair, inequitable and injurious report by the emergency board since enactment of the railway labor law.

F. H. Nemitz, chief of the conductors, and W. P. Kennedy, head of the trainmen, said their unions were "ready to use economic strength, if necessary, to force a fair settlement of the issues."

1,300 Affected in Arkansas
Little Rock, —(UP)—Rock Island railroad officials say some 1,300 workers in Arkansas would be laid off if a threatened strike against the road starts next week as scheduled.

Only 80 of the 1,300 employees are members of the switchmen's union involved in the dispute.

Rock Island executives say the entire system will be shut down if the strike is called.

Confessions

to Appear,

Stalin Speaks

New York, June 22 —(AP)—Now that Prime Minister Stalin has laid down the law on Soviet language policies, a parade of new confessions can be expected in Moscow.

Stalin spoke in Pravda on Tuesday. Exactly what his words meant is a matter which is subject to broadly varying interpretations, but this appears obvious:

He did lay waste, in no uncertain

terms, the school of linguistics which long has ridden the crest of popularity in the Soviet Union.

Nikolai Yakovlevich Marr, the philologist hailed only recently as

"inspired" Soviet scientist and founder of the new materialist teachings on language, was not only wrong in many of his conceptions, but was un-Marxist, said

Stalin. The Soviet leader thus entered—and probably ended — a long debate on linguistics which has been going on for several months in Moscow.

If the Communists run true to form, this will bring a parade of confessions in the form of "Bolshevik criticism and self-criticism,"

from persons like Academician

I. I. Meshchanihov, a leader of the Marr school, who in an academy

discussion in April proclaimed

Marr a model scientist "combating hostile, idealist theories" of language.

Others had joined joyfully in singing the praises of Marr, who died in 1934.

The first ominous clue that things might go awry for the dominant school of language study

came a little more than a month ago. Pravda, official Communist party paper, published an article criticizing the Marr adherents. To western observers it looked like the beginning of a shift in policy.

Stalin made it official. He wrote in Pravda that it was time Soviet philology freed itself from the mistakes of Marr and liquidated the rule of his adherents. Marr's theory that different classes develop different languages was absurd,

said Stalin; Marr's notion that language was merely a cultural superstructure which would change swiftly with revolution was simply not true. Further, the prime minister deplored that the Marr school gave Soviet philology a regime

under which scientists were denoted or fired for criticizing

Marr's teachings.

Arms Control Unit Sought by the U. S.

Lake Success, June 22—(AP)—The United States has asked the United Nations to set up an international authority to supervise and check on the reduction and regulation of ordinary arms and armed forces.

The proposal has been circulated among delegates to the U. N. commission for conventional armaments in preparation for a discussion by the commission's working committee.

Conventional arms are rifles, artillery, naval and aircraft and almost all other weapons except the atom bomb and weapons of mass destruction.

The U. N. document proposes that a conventional arms administration should be made up of countries represented in the U. N. security council. Functioning at U. N. headquarters, it would receive information on arms from each nation, check on the information, check on the information, and report violations of the arms code as they are found.

He was accompanied by Grover, a 15-year-old hitchhiker he picked up just outside of Little Rock.

Wade stopped in a Prescott station for gasoline. The operator became suspicious and notified police.

Yellow candles, flanked the cake. A blue and yellow color scheme was carried out, with the individual cakes, napkins, and so forth.

national peace, security and justice in the world—and that includes this part of the world as well as the western world."

In his chamber of commerce speech, Dulles said: "Any struggle that openly pitted the full might of the free world against that of the captive world could have but one outcome. That would be the total demoralization of the artificial, rigid and relatively weak structure that soviet communism has built. That is why most well informed people do not now expect war."

Tried to Keep Reds Out Service Says

Washington, June 22—(AP)—Career Diplomat John S. Service, accused by Senator McCarthy of aiding Chinese Communists, declared today that on the contrary he had done all he could to resist "the domination of China by communism."

The veteran foreign service officer was before a public session of the senate foreign relations subcommittee which is investigating the contents of McCarthy's Wisconsin Republican, that the state department harbors Communists and Red sympathizers.

The senators had first planned to hear him behind closed doors, but Service asked for a public hearing. A thin wiry man, Service leaned forward in the witness chair and told the senators it just is not true that he was a "collaborator with Communists" as McCarthy charged.

He also declared that he was innocent of the charges placed against him in the 1945 controversy. That case involved the discovery of hundreds of confidential federal papers in the New York headquarters of the now-defunct America magazine.

Service and five others were arrested in the episode and charged with conspiracy to obtain illegal possession of the government documents. A grand jury refused to indict Service and he was returned to duty in the state department.

Only two of the others were prosecuted. Philip Jaffe, editor of the magazine, was fined $2,500 and Emmanuel Laarsen, a state department employee, was fined $500.

Some Republicans in congress have charged there was a "cover up" on the case and "bungling" of the prosecution.

The senate committee is looking into the America case as part of its general investigation of McCarthy's Communists-in-governments charges.

Service told the committee today:

"When I was arrested by the FBI on June 6, 1945, I told the arresting officer and the interrogating agents that I was innocent of the charges, and that I wished to do what I could to help solve the matter. That has been and still is my attitude."

Crossings should be Seen and not Felt

WHEN the sign says "Stop, Look and Listen," the prudent driver does.

But, after that what? Must you still move forward at a cautious crawl or pay toll in jar, jitter and jounce?

Not, good sir, when you're at a Buick's wheel.

You step on the throttle, move easily, swiftly forward. Your wheels dance—your tires drum-roll over rail and plank.

But four gentle coil springs, one on each wheel, are working their magic—and you hear rather than feel the rough spot you have crossed.

That, of course, is only one kind of rough going you can meet in your travels. It's only one kind of discomfort your Buick's built to master.

For beside gentle coil springing, every Buick rides on soft, low-pressure tires. Every one is steadied by a rigid torque-tube. Every one boasts a rigid, weaverproof frame—soft, sure shock absorbers—even special engine mountings to minimize vibration.

They can have the special added smoothness of Dynaflo Drive,* cushioning power-thrust in spinning oil.

So rough spots seem to level out at your coming. Boulevards take on a new smoothness. You know what riding comfort is—why the Buick ride is called matchless.

So how about it?

Come climb into a Buick and see for yourself what we mean. You'll get a style-thrill and a power-thrill along with your ride-thrill—and a story on price that eliminates your last excuse for not traveling in the Buick manner!

Country Club Is Scene of Dance

The young social set of the Hope Country club entertained with a ballroom dance at the club house Wednesday evening complimenting the Juniors and Seniors of Hope High school and the college students.

For the occasion the reception room was decorated with yellow gladioli and blue hydrangeas. The mantel held a lovely arrangement of yellow gladioli interspersed with yellow candles.

During intermissions, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hobbs and Mrs. Moody Willis served delightful refreshments. There were 15 guests present.

Bridge Party Fetes Bride Elect

Miss Kathryn Hatley, popular bride-elect of E. P. Young, Jr. was feted at a bridge party from two to five o'clock Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Dale Dunn and Mrs. Cline Franks at the Franks home on South Elm street.

A profusion of hydrangeas and roses decorated the reception rooms where three tables of bridge was played. Miss Alice Lile received high score, and the bingo prize went to Mrs. George Frazier.

The hostesses presented Miss Hatley with a corsage of gardenias, and a gift of her chosen pattern of silver.

During the afternoon, banana splits were served to the following: Miss Hatley, her mother, Mrs. John Hatley, Mrs. E. P. Young, Mrs. Robert Reaves of Arkadelphia; Miss Tookey Bemis of Prescott; Miss Barbara LaGrone, Miss Dorothy Henry, Mrs. George Frazier, Miss Laura Ann Garand, Mrs. William Routh, Mrs. John Crank of Longview, Tex.; Miss Alice Lile, and the hostesses.

Kathryn Hatley

Honoree at Party
Another in a series of parties complimenting bride-elect Kathryn Hatley, was a lovely affair at 10:30 a. m. Wednesday, given by Mrs. Lucien Abraham, and her mother, Mrs. C. C. McNeill, at the McNeill home on North Harvey.

An arrangement of clematis, and Queen Anne's lace was placed before the open fireplace. Other arrangements of daisies, gladioli, and a basket of pink roses and Queen Anne's lace were used in the living room. The dining table was centered with a low flat basket of yellow and red gladioli, and a gift of various fruits.

As the guests arrived, the hostesses served a delightful refreshment plate. They presented the honoree with a corsage of white gladioli, and a gift of Shelly English Bone China.

During the morning, the guests fringed two luncheon sets in green and gray and presented them to the honoree guest.

Twenty guests were presented and among those from other cities, were Miss Hatley's sister, Mrs. Robert Reaves of Arkadelphia, and Miss Kate "Tookie" Bemis of Prescott.

Patsy Ann Duke,

Fred Thomson Wed
A double-ring ceremony June 2 united Miss Patsy Ann Duke and Fred Lantier Thomson. Dr. Carlyle Marney performed the rites in the First Baptist church.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Duke, 509 Hearn, the bride is a graduate of Austin High school and attended the University of Texas for three years. She is now employed by the City Electrical Distributing Department.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Thomson, 4503 Rosedale. He is also a graduate of Austin High school and is attending the University at the present time, majoring in industrial engineering.

The church was decorated with an arch of palms with white gladioli and stock flanked by candelabra holding lighted tapers.

Music for Ceremony
Jim Berry, soloist, sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer." During the exchange of rings, he sang "With This Ring I Thee Wed." He was accompanied by organist, Paul Kennard, who also played the following selections: "Clair de Lune," "Liebestraum" and "Moonlight Sonata."

Bride Wore White

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white organdy gown designed with basque waist, leg-o-mutton sleeves and full skirt which fell into a chapel-length train. The yoke and deep flared hip peplum were of imported eyel-et embroidered organdy. Her veil of French illusion was caught by a shirred headress. She carried a bouquet of white roses. Her only jewelry was an heirloom lavalier, shaped like an orchid and centered with a diamond.

Bride's Attendants

The bride's attendants were her sisters, Mrs. Jack R. Barnes of Houston and Mrs. Chester Brooks, Jr. of Austin. They wore flamingo and chartreuse silk organza gowns, respectively and carried bouquets of white poinsettias.

Attended Bridgroom

Gene S. Rogers of Houston served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Chester Brooks, Jr. of Austin and Mark C. Kennedy of Vermont. Jimmie Duke, brother of the bride, and Preston Martin lighted the candles.

A reception was held in the home of the bridegroom parents. The house was decorated with white gladioli and stock, and the bride's table was centered with an arrangement of white roses in an epergne.

The three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, was embossed with white roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Chester Brooks, Sr. served the cake and Mrs. J. C. Watson poured the punch.

Miss Janelle Buford was in charge of the bride's guest book. The bride's mother wore a palm-ino linen dress with blush red gladioli.

The bridegroom's mother chose a blue crepe dress with white and pink accessories and wore a corsage of pink carnations.

For going-away the bride selected a navy dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses. After a wedding trip to Galveston, the couple will be a home at 2306 Nueces.

Others who attended the wedding from out of town were Granville Duke, Jr., Magnolia, Ark.; Misses Janice and Clara Dennis, Waldo, Ark.; and Mrs. Jim Fudge, Prescott, Ark.

Coming and Going

Cpl. Maxine Powell of Fort Jay, New York, is spending a 15 day furlough visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Olyn Powell. Upon her return to New York City, Cpl. Powell will sail for Germany where she will be stationed.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Foster, and children, have returned from a vacation trip to Galveston and Houston, Tex.

Following the NEA convention in Bloomington, Indiana, Miss Marjorie Waddle will go to Pittsburgh, Pa., New York, and Petersburg, Va. to visit friends before she returns to Hope.

Mr. and Mrs. Waymond Farley and daughter, Bessie of Clarksville, Tex. are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Tooley and family this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Murphy, Jr. of Tyler, Texas have arrived to spend a two week vacation with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Murphy, Sr. of Hope, and Mr. and Mrs. S. Dudley in Washington.

Britain Trying to Get Votes for Red China

London, June 21 (AP)—Government sources disclosed today that Britain is campaigning actively for votes to get Nationalist China thrown out and Red China seated in the United Nations. The new policy apparently has a twofold aim: 1 — End the Russian boycott of 30 U. N. organs.

2 — Remove one of the big obstacles remaining in the way of full diplomatic relations between Britain and communist China. Britain, with a big commercial stake in the communist-ruled China mainland, broke off with Chiang Kai-shek's Formosa island government in January and recognized chairman Mao Tze-tung's Peiping Red regime. But Britain abstained in votes on the representation question in the U. N.

Fair Enough

By Westbrook Pegler

By King Features Syndicate.

New York, June 21 (AP)—Dewey's withdrawal from politics, which may be a permanent retirement, deprives the country of one of the few truly honest politicians and a fine executive. He is also one of a very few political leaders who maintained in a time of political degeneracy and personal dishonor the standards of decency
 which should be the minimum.
 Taft is another. Dewey was too fastidious for his own success and his party's during his two presidential campaigns. So, in the summing up, Tom Dewey must be accused of bad judgment in refusing to use against Roosevelt in 1944 and Truman in 1948 legitimate information impugning their moral fitness for the office.

Dewey knew that Roosevelt had been spectacularly stingy with the hired help on his hereditary barony
 only a few miles from the farm which Tom bought with his own earnings and borrowings. Proof was put together in affidavit form in the 1936 campaign but never used. Of itself, this was bad enough. But in the circumstances, this was the more contemptible because here was a great faker patronizing the common man in politics but grinding him down to less than $3 a day in some cases, subject to lay-off in bad weather and long walks to and fro in mud, snow and slush. And here were field-hands standing off actual malnutrition on free food from the government. All this Dewey knew as AFL London had known it in 1936.
 But the Republicans were always determined to keep their punches
 up and even raised the foul line to the Adam's apple while the Democrats dropped it to the kneecaps and chucked in a few out of bounds even so.

Dewey would never use personal campaign material. Elliott's hot oil party, a notorious escapade in which the old man let himself be delivered to a barbecue in the Texas Gulf for obvious purposes,
 never was mentioned from the Republican stump. Dewey said nothing about the loans that Roosevelt promoted for his roistering club.
 The whipsaw by which the old swindler personally sent the collateral to the second of Elliott's discarded wives to settle Elliott's alimony liabilities, left Dewey cold.
 True, by this time, Roosevelt himself was gone, but it was true also that the cheap county commissioner who had been sent to the senate as the personal ambassador of the dirtiest crook in the country was stuck with the mantle and myth and the tradition of Roosevelt's immortal splendor. The result was that Roosevelt and Truman made Dewey seem politically effeminate.

Roosevelt began his 1944 campaign with a drunken brawl at the teamsters' board in the Washington Statler. This was an insult to the pride, honor and decency of every citizen not yet reduced to the moral and social level of the White House and its mysterious scattered outposts. Merriam Smith, the U. P. White House man, waited until it could do no harm to report publicly, and then revealed that one of the drunks
 who were host to the command-in-chief and moral leader of the world, amused himself by smashing glasses with a fork-handle.
 Had Dewey not been so inhibited by a respect for the office that Roosevelt had no respect for,
 he would have seized upon that revolting spectacle of besotted old swine, claiming to represent
 "labor," wallowing in their own filth and brawling with young naval officers who couldn't repress their disgust. But Dewey would use nothing that tended to impeach Roosevelt's moral character even though that impeachment, easily to be established by the strong legal presentation that he often had employed in his criminal courts, would have shocked the conscience of the nation. The service to the people that Tom Dewey could have rendered by such an attack is beyond calculation. Possibly his reluctance confirmed our doom as a free republic for the consequences of the ensuing years of Roosevelt and Truman cannot yet be fully measured.

Dewey is a great courtroom lawyer. His youthful and rather smallish appearance and his manner, the opposite of pugnacity, deceived many a one. But on the offensive he had wonderful courage and command of his case. If he had gone right to the people within 48 hours after that feast of the most appalling aggregation of union racketeers ever assembled he could have rubbed the holy Roosevelt's nose in this vile profanation of a peoples trust and sacrifice.

There were, of course, many other scandals that were legiti-mate political ammunition. But Mr. Dewey not only insisted on keeping the campaign on a high level himself while Ike's and his like were sneering and insinuating in the only kind of campaign that the people would listen to.

Laney Raps McMath's 'Tradition'

Little Rock, June 22 —(AP)— Governor McMath is traditional only when it suits him to be, says the man who's out to beat him for a second term.

"I notice by my chief opponent's funny paper that he is very much in favor of a traditional second term," former Gov. Ben Laney told an audience at Lake Village last night.

(The "funny paper" is a booklet in comic book form in behalf of Governor McMath's campaign for re-nomination.)

"Yet on the other hand, he is opposed to most other traditions of the South," Laney declared.

"It was in a speech at Indianapolis that 'Traditional Six' said the traditions of the South are gone."

Laney spoke at the Chicago county seat in behalf of his bid for a third term in the governor's office, which he voluntarily relinquished two years ago.

He told his listeners—estimated at 1,500—that if he's returned to the governor's office he'll work for an interconnected drainage system for southeast Arkansas.

McMath apparently is saving

DeQueen Lets Contract for Gas System

DeQueen, June 21 (AP)— B. and M. Construction Company, Oklahoma City, was apparent low bidder for construction of a municipal gas distribution system here today.

Its proposal was $549,719.

Four other contractors submitted bids.

DeQueen has sold a $670,000 bond issue for building the facilities under a 1949 Arkansas legislative act permitting cities to own and operate natural gas systems.

any replies he might have to statements Laney has made on his now three-day-old stumping tour of the state until after the "formal" McMath campaigning opening at Pine Bluff Saturday.

Meanwhile, the governor continues to make public appearances which outwardly, at least, aren't political. Tonight he's to attend a fish fry at St. Charles sponsored by a DeWitt masonic lodge. Tomorrow he'll participate in ceremonies dedicating the Arkansas Power and Light company's new $50,000, 600 steam electric generating plant on Lake Catherine near Hot Springs.

Radio Tells Story of Slaying

Flint, Mich., June 22 — (AP)— Radio's "Big Story" of how a Michigan woman killed her husband and two children was told to a coast to coast airwaves audience last night despite legal moves to block it.

The "right of privacy" of convicted murderess was at issue. There remained today the possibility of a federal court suit on behalf of Mrs. Julia Kulinich, 34-year-old convicted slayer from Marquette, Mich.

The crime was reenacted over the National Broadcasting co. net work on a half-hour program entitled "The Big Story" and sponsored by the American Cigarette and Cigar co.

Before it went on, Circuit Judge Clifford A. Bishop of Flint first granted and then dismissed a request by Mrs. Kulinich for an injunction to keep the drama out of the air.

Judge Bishop said he changed his position upon learning that the broadcast would originate in New York rather than in Flint and would use fictitious names for the principals. He pointed out his court could not halt a national broadcast.

Joseph Charanoske, Mrs. Kulinich's lawyer, consented to the judge's action in dismissing the suit. But he indicated he might start action in federal court in New York and possibly in Chicago and Hollywood. He did not detail his contemplated legal moves.

Carroll Fire Girls, Inc. was founded in 1910.

Bulldozer Buries 8-Year-Old Boy Alive

Flint, Mich., June 21 (UP)— Eight-year-old James S. Wolak was buried alive today by an unsuspecting bulldozer operator.

The boy and a six-year-old companion were playing on one side of a sand pile when the bulldozer operator, Ike Small, shoved the sand over an embankment from the other side.

James was found by his mother after Don Pastor, his playmate, ran to the Wolak home and cried, "Jimmy is buried."

Only his hands were showing. Small, who was eating lunch at the time, applied artificial respiration. His efforts were futile. He told police that he had warned the boys earlier not to play near the pile but was unaware they were on the other side.

Horsemen will vie for $21,000 in purses in 15 stake races at Delaware park from May 29 to July 4.

Reds Seek Reversal of Sentence

By H. D. QUIGG

New York, June 21 (UP)—An old, old tune sounded today in the hushed and dimly-lighted courtroom high above Foley square.

The voice said:

"The overthrow of the government does not occur by words alone. It takes preparation and acts."

The speaker was A. J. Isserman, one of the five attorneys in the historic case of the government of the United States vs. the American Communist party.

It was the tune which was played by the Communists for nine months before federal Judge Harold R. Medina in a courtroom 17 floors below today's arena. There, last October, a jury convicted the 11 top U. S. Communists of conspiring to overthrow and teach the violent overthrow of the government.

Medina had told the trial jury: "words are the instruments by which crimes may be committed."

Now, arguing before the United States court of appeals that the jury verdict should be reversed, the Communists' attorneys contended that the Smith Act of June 28, 1940, under which the Communist leaders were indicted, is unconstitutional. That act, in an amendment passed by congress on the last day of debate on the bill, prohibited teaching and advocating forceful government overthrow and publishing papers so advocating.

Isserman, the first speaker in the two-day Communist argument, told the appeals court that "affirming of this verdict would be nothing more or less than a death blow at the first amendment." That amendment guarantees freedom of speech, press and assembly.

Nice Hobby — Just Doing Nothing

Baltimore, Md. — Ulysses Othon's hobby is accomplishing nothing. Just now the nothing he's busy with is a hexacontayohedron. That's Greek for a geometric figure with 62 sides.

Building such doodads from old venetian blind strips is Othon's sparetime joy. Geometric doodlings fascinate the young New Yorker, who's studying music at the Peabody Conservatory here.

The figures he makes are: Too light for doorstops. Too bulky for bookmarks. Not absorbent enough for penwipers. In short, they're utterly useless. Which is just the charm about them, Othon maintains.

In fact — to add substance to this weightless story — there seems to be a thin line of tradition from Ulysses Othon to Pythagoras and Plato, the ancient Greek philosophers for whom numbers and geometry represented keys to wisdom. Geometric meditations, they

Firecrackers Also Make Gambler Nervous

Los Angeles, June 21 (AP)—Police today nabbed two visiting students from Montana State College for tossing firecrackers at a very touchy spot—Mickey Cohen's home.

Two officers were staked out at the home of the town's No. 1 gambler after jittery neighbors complained of "explosions" there. Some of Mickey's gangland enemies previously attempted to bomb him.

Police released the students after a lecture.

Rock Island Switchmen to Go on Strike

Little Rock, June 21 (AP) — Approximately 1,300 Arkansas employees of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad will be put out of work next week if the threatened strike of the Rock Island switchmen materializes.

Rock Island officials said today approximately 80 of the 1,300 are members of the Switchmen's Union of North America, A F L, which has announced it will strike at 8 p.m. Sunday.

Rock Island headquarters in Chicago announced that the system would shut down if the strike materializes. Little Rock offices of the Rock Island announced that the shutdown would be complete in Arkansas with even the commercial offices closing "because there will be no business for us to handle."

and their schools held, were valuable tonics for the soul.

Othon, who agrees to an extent, already has made anicosahedron (20 sides) and a number of simpler polyhedrons (many-sided solid figures).

WHEREAS, the majority in value of the property holders owning property adjoining the locality to be affected and situated in District No. 16 organized (See Ordinance No. 642) for the purpose of blacktopping according to the proposal made by the City of Hope, have petitioned the council of the City of Hope, Arkansas, for the construction of said improvement, and that the cost thereof shall be assessed upon the real property of said district according to benefits received; and

WHEREAS, said benefits received by each and every block, lot and parcel of real property situated in said district equals or exceeds the local assessment thereon; and Therefore, it is now ordained by the City Council of the City of Hope, Arkansas, that the several blocks, lots and parcels of real property in said district be assessed according to the assessment list for said improvement district as the same now remains in the office of the recorder or city clerk and that 20 per centum of the assessment of benefits, exclusive of interest, on each said block, lots and parcels shall be paid to Charles Reynerson, Dist. Improvement Collector, on or before July 10, 1950, and that 20 per centum of each of said assessments with 5 per centum per annum interest on the unpaid balance of said assessment shall be paid annually thereafter until the whole of said local assessment shall be paid. Six Members of Family Drown

Cooper Hill, Mo., June 21 (AP). — Nine light-hearted fishermen rowed out in the rain-swollen Gasconade river at mid-morning today.

Three of them fought their way back to shore and lived.

The six others, including all four members of one family, were drowned when the over-loaded boat sank in the swift water.

The state highway patrol said most of the occupants knew the river well and knew the boat was BEV seemed normal at lunch, gay and talkative, but Bill knew she was putting on an act for the elder Coulter. After the meal, Bill got Bev aside.

"How's for golf this afternoon?" he asked. "We've got to talk some more."

The laughter was gone from her face now. "No golf, Bill," she said decisively. "And no more talk. It would tell me nothing I don't already know. If you're trying to say something like 'we can't leave it this way'—I think we can." Her hand touched him, and she gave it a warm little squeeze. "I've some things to do. No hard feelings, Bill. I haven't any."

She left him then, abruptly, as if she could not trust herself to say more. Bill shook his head, rather sadly, and wandered out to the veranda. Lloyd Williston lolled in a glider, half asleep.

"Not flying today?" Bill asked.

Lloyd yawned. "Later, maybe. They had to do a repair job on the plane this morning," Bill moved on.

Mrs. Fasker was sitting under a tree knitting steadily, like a benign Madame Defarge. She gave Bill her shrewd appraising look. "Well, young Jarvis, how you doing?"

For at least once today, Bill thought, he might be honest.

"Not too darn well," he said, forcing a grin.

She nodded. "I'm not surprised. This set-up had all the necessary ingredients. You aren't the first man to think he was crazy about one girl, and then find himself overboard for another."

He practically jumped. Of course, though, she'd guessed. Or figured odds out of what, he presumed, was a vast experience of people.

"So you think that's me?" he temporized.

Mrs. Fasker snorted. "Think?"

Elizabeth, who was killed by anarchists in Geneva 1907. Constantine I, of Greece; Chulalongkorn, Emperor of Siam; Nicholas I, of Montenegro and father-in-law of the last Italian King, Victor Emmanuel III; King Alfonso XIII of Spain and the family of Nicholas II, Czar of Russia, who were murdered by the Bolsheviks in 1917, all were among Charlie's guests.

Siam's Chulalongkorn, who later gave the city a gilded Siamese temple which still stands near the hotel, brought an entourage of 40 attendants with him. Once, on his 50th birthday, he invited the whole population of Bad Homburg for a night of free drinks and free food.

"The Damned War"

It was not too long before the Wanmakers, the Marshall Fields, the Vanderbilts and other American millionaires appeared on the golf courses of Bad Homburg and in the dining halls of Charlie's Park.

With the beginning of the first "damned war" as Charlie calls it, business dropped. Happy old pre-war days did not come back. Bad Homburg lost many of its attractions.

Then Came Hitler

In World War II, the Park was turned into a recreation center for Hitler's black-booted SS-guards. Charlie retired into his apartment, sadly thinking of the days gone by.

The first American who stepped into the hotel in March 1945 after Bad Homburg was captured by U. S. troops was the son of a hotel owner. He was Capt. John

Royalty and GIs All the Same to Him

By Hanne Neuerbourg

Bad Homburg, Germany — An 82-year-old German claims he has known more emperors and kings than any man in the world. He is Carl ("Charlie") Ritter. He owns the luxurious Ritter's Park Hotel where royalty and millionaires formerly stayed when they came to take the cures in this spa.

Now he knows hundreds of American GIs, officers and civilians, who go often to eat at his famous hotel.

But whether it was General Dwight D. Eisenhower, the German kaisers, the Prince of Wales or the Siamese emperor, they were all alike to him — his guests.

A Sartorial Model

Ritter has the appearance of a British diplomat. Elegantly clad, he looks 30 years younger than 82. His thin white hair carefully combed, he has the air of a man at ease on golf course or at gala receptions.

The day "Charlie" was born was symbolic for his whole life. On August 17, 1868, the city of Bad Homburg was bedecked with flags for the first visit to the town of the first German Kaiser, Wilhelm I.

The little spa already had some reputation at that time and many German princes and counts had built their castles in its vicinity — but it was Charlie's indefatigable energy that later led the town to real prosperity.

Edward VII Was Tame

The British nobility came with Edward VII, when Prince of Wales, who returned regularly to Bad Homburg until shortly before his death in 1910.

Although biographies describe Edward VII as a famous sportsman and creator of men's fashion (one of his designs was the Homburg hat), Ritter claims he was one of the most austere clients of the Homburg baths.

The king sternly dieted himself, Charlie remembers. For lunch and dinner he ate spinach and trout three weeks without a change. There was only one luxury Edward afforded himself — unsweetened stewed peaches.

All his company at table had to eat the same frugal food — only other visiting monarchs were permitted to be exceptions. His father-in-law, Christian IX, King of Denmark, Empress Victoria, Edward's sister and wife of the second German Kaiser Friedrich II were allowed to dine more opulently.

Some Other Famous Guests

The Empress of Austria and Queen of Hungary, the beautiful overloaded. The small Missouri "John" boat was powered by an outboard motor, which was operating when the craft sunk, bow first.

Troopers identified the victims as Frank Hassler, 40, his wife Laverne, 35, and their children, Mary 8 and Theresa, 6, of Bland, Mo.; Walter Kwiatkowski and Josephine Sak, both of St. Louis.

Survivors were Andrew Sak, husband of Josephine, and Sophia and Edward Kwiatkowski, niece and brother of Walter.

The stream yielded the bodies of Hassler and his two children to dragging. An attempt was made to string meshed wire across the shallows below the drowning scene to catch the other bodies. This failed because the river is six inches above normal.

Idling by the green, smoking a pipe.

"Just lucky," Bill emerged from the trap.

"Nope. Nice shot. But the last person I saw in there today made a better one."

"So?"

"Yeah. Near holed out. A woman too. That Sands girl."

"Oh!" Bill clipped it consciously. But, as consciously, he felt a sudden thrill, at the mere mention of the name.

"Yeah," Mike knocked dottle from his pipe. "And I'm sorry she's going, all right. Best golfer we've had here all summer."

It took an effort, but Bill controlled himself. "Did you say . . . going?"

"Uh-huh. Leaving tomorrow, she tells me."

BILL waited for no more. He threw his bag in the clubhouse and started for the Inn. So that was what Hildy had meant? She — Oh, sure! He was a dope not to have understood her last night. Hildy, being Hildy, would do just this. Clear out . . . clear the air.

But she mustn't go. It wouldn't do any good. And right there Bill Jarvis knew, once and for all.

Hilda Sands could have gone to the ends of the earth but failed, signally, to take herself out of his mind.

He steamed around a bend in the path—and nearly collided with Joe Coulter.

Coulter appeared to have been hurrying along, head down. Now the head jerked up, showing a lined agitated face. "Oh! Bill, I've been hunting you all over. See here! Did Bev say anything to you?"

"To me?" Bill blinked. "About what?"

Coulter's shoulders sagged. "I can see she didn't. Nor to us either. But Bev went flying with that Williston fellow. Hours ago. And here it is night and they're not back yet. I've planned the airport a dozen times. But there's no word of them. And Mrs. Coulter's half crazy."

Three Highway Employees Hurt in Wreck

Paragould, June 21 (AP). — Three Arkansas highway department employees were injured when they were struck by an automobile four miles of here today, Sheriff Loy Newberry reported.

Newberry said the automobile ran through a barrier while the men were repairing pavement. He identified the driver as John L. Lofton of near Cardwell, Mo.

Erwin Huggler suffered a broken right leg and possibly other injuries. His father, Ed Huggler, suffered shoulder and back injuries. Charles C. Sereeton suffered an injured left knee.

Mayo, of the Mayo Hotel in Tulsa, Oklahoma, Charlie's table became a favorite among U. S. occupation officers.

Generals Eisenhower, McNarney, Clay and now U. S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy — all liked the Park, Charlie says.
